We will be generous with our gifts and honest in our communication, holding faithful to a love that embraces both diversity and conflict. Called by our living tradition, we will nurture spirituality within a vision of the eternal, living out our inner convictions through struggles for justice and acts of compassion.”

Response* #123 Spirit of Life

Spirit of life come unto me
Sing in my heart all the stirrings of compassion.
Blow in the wind, rise in the sea;
Move in the hand, giving life the shape of justice.
Roots hold me close; wings set me free;
Spirit of Life, come to me, come to me.

Today's Music Texts

Slow Down* by Heather Pierson & Bernice Martin

Slow down,
Recharge,
Take a breath,
And remember who you are.

Better's On Its Way* by Abigail Cline

Afraid to speak for what might come out afraid to stop and then feel more doubt.
Oh got a rest to heal.
Oh gotta live to feel.

Gotta grow and not hide it away
I know that this is just today.
Deep down oh I know that better's on its way,
deep down oh I know better's on its way
on its way.

If I dig too deep, Will I like what I find.
If I leave it be, will I live my life blind.
Oh got a rest to heal.
Oh gotta live to feel.

Gotta grow and not hide it away
I know that this is just today.
Deep down oh I know that better's on its way,
deep down oh I know better's on its way
on its way.

The Road Home* by Stephel Paulus

Tell me, where is the road I can call my own,
That I left, that I lost So long ago?
All these years I have wandered, Oh when will I know
There's a way, there's a road That will lead me home?

After wind, after rain, when the dark is done,
As I wake from a dream In the gold of day,
Through the air there's a calling from far away,
There's a voice I can hear that will lead me home.

Rise up, follow me, come away, is the call,
With the love in your heart as the only song;
There is no such beauty as where you belong;
Rise up, follow me, I will lead you home.

Rejuvenation* by Tobin Stokes

I've been through everything and come out smiling
'cuz now my is thru – my rest is due and, oh, how I need – Rejuvenation

I've cried my final cry now I'll look to the sky
'cuz now my life's on track – the good is back and, oh, how I need – Rejuvenation

What I've been through Oh, what I need – Rejuvenation

No more cares! No more fears!
No more worries! No more tears!
No more hurt! No more doubt!
No more achin' complication
just Rejuvenation

Our Principles and Sources as UUs

We affirm and promote:

1. The inherent worth and dignity of every person;
2. Justice, equity and compassion in human relations;
3. Acceptance of one another and encouragement to spiritual growth in our congregations;
4. A free and responsible search for truth and meaning;
5. The right of conscience and the use of the democratic process within our congregations and in society at large;
6. The goal of world community with peace, liberty, and justice for all;
7. Respect for the interdependent web of all existence of which we are a part;
8. Journeying toward spiritual wholeness by working to build a diverse multicultural Beloved Community by our actions that accountably dismantle racism and other oppressions in ourselves and our institutions.

The living traditions we share draw from many sources:

1. Direct experience of that transcending mystery and wonder, affirmed in all cultures, which moves us to a renewal of the spirit and an openness to the forces which create and uphold life;
2. Words and deeds of prophetic people which challenge us to confront powers and structures of evil with justice, compassion, and the transforming power of love;
3. Wisdom from the world's religions which inspires us in our ethical and spiritual life;
4. Jewish and Christian teachings which call us to respond to God's love by loving our neighbors as ourselves;
5. Humanist teachings which counsel us to heed the guidance of reason and the results of science, and warn us against idolatries of the mind and spirit;
6. Spiritual teachings of Earth-centered traditions which celebrate the sacred circle of life and instruct us to live in harmony with the rhythms of nature.

Our Symbols and History

Land Acknowledgement

2U resides on the traditional homelands of the Three Fires Confederacy: Ojibwe, Odawa, and Potawatomi. This region has long been a center for Indigenous people to gather, trade, and maintain kinship ties. Today, one of the largest urban American Indian communities in the United States resides in Chicago.

We acknowledge that settler colonialism is not just an event of the past but an ongoing reality that we commit to learn about and challenge. See Chi-Nations Youth Council or the American Indian Center of Chicago for more info.

Our Logo

We incorporate two powerful symbols into our identity: the flaming chalice emblem of Unitarian Universalism and the historic anvil once owned by our founding minister, Rev. Robert Collyer.

Rev. Collyer's journey from a humble blacksmith's apprentice in Yorkshire, England, to his pivotal role in our congregation is a testament to the rich tapestry of our history. In an era where most Unitarian preachers hailed from privileged backgrounds, Rev. Collyer's working-class roots resonated deeply with our early members. This connection led them to acquire his cherished Yorkshire anvil, a poignant relic that endured the ravages of the Chicago fire, symbolizing resilience, and continuity.

During WWII, the Unitarian Service Committee adopted the flaming chalice as a beacon of hope and solidarity for those fleeing persecution. This symbol transcends religious boundaries, embodying the spirit of sharing and universal love. Its flame symbolizes not only power but also the resilience necessary to withstand adversity, offering solace in times of turmoil and strife.

Seymour Fleishman's original logo, updated by Ellen Rockett, captures the essence of our values. The chalice adorning our chancel was crafted by Libby Harvey-Hill. Lew Harding's skillful construction of the wood pedestal and anvil cabinet completes this tribute, showcasing the talents and dedication of our community.
